

Resisto Dancing

(A Song for Beluga Grads)
Raffi © 2004 Homeland Publishing

Impossible samba, improbable rumba
Dancing in your junglehood.
Celestial mambo, terrestrial tango
Dancing in your junglehood.

Resisto dancing, to keep your love alive
Resisto dancing, to keep your song lines open & hummin'
You're the answer in the wind, a candle in the dark
A state of the possible in your spacious heart.

All grown up, and on the go
Tuned into the global radio
Dancing in your jungelhood.

All grown up and so much to do
The power and the blessing of being you is dancing
Dancing in your junglehood.

Resisto dancing, to keep your love alive
Resisto dancing, to keep your songlines open & hummin'
You're the answer in the wind, a candle in the dark
A state of the possible in your spacious heart.

Here come the turbulent times
Here come the hard hard rain gonna fall
As it tumbles in your junglehood.
And now, a clarion call
A call to give it your all as you're twirling
And tapping and dancing in your junglehood.

Resisto dancing, to keep your love alive
Resisto dancing, to keep your songlines open & hummin'
You're the answer in the wind, a candle in the dark
A state of the possible in your spacious heart.

So to thine own self, to thine own voice
And to thine own dreams, stay true...
